Continuous Quality Improvement

Committee meeting attendees introduced themselves and reviewed the agenda. Following that, the committee reviewed the current data dashboard draft and discussed its purpose.

Then, attendees received a presentation on the data previously collected by SIAC. The committee co-chair reviewed the plan for creating the data dashboard and the indicators that were previously listed as potentially to be included. The committee committed to having a draft Data Dashboard ready to be presented to the full Commissioner Level SIAC on July 22.

Finance & Resource

Committee meeting attendees introduced themselves and reviewed the agenda. Following that, the committee reviewed the current data dashboard draft and discussed its purpose.

Next, the committee welcomed Robin Rhea, a Policy Advisor from the Cabinet for Health and Family Services, who provided an extensive overview of the various ways data, can be pulled from the Medicaid system. Following that presentation, the committee began discussion around diagnoses codes versus billing codes and which to include in the Financial Mapping process.

Service Array

Committee meeting attendees introduced themselves and reviewed the agenda. Following that, the Service Array committee discussed the most recent recommendations that were made to the Governor. Reviewing each one recommendation, the group discussed the update and was struck by how much movement has occurred with Transition Age Youth and the attention around psychotropic meds. The group suggested that some of the recommendations needed to be carried forward but updated, for example the suicide recommendations references QPR but there are updated practices that may need to be referenced. Next, the committee reviewed the current version of the Service Array Continuum. Attendees discussed a few changes but agreed that it was pretty solid. A suggestion was made to remove the categories/headings as it was distracting from the primary purpose of the service continuum.

System Structure & Governance

Committee meeting attendees introduced themselves and reviewed the agenda. Following that, the committee continued with highlights from the group's responses to the facilitated discussion questions posed during the May meeting. The group received an electronic copy of the responses prior to the meeting. The standing committee then discussed possible recommendations for the Annual Report to the Governor. A draft of the committee's responses will be shared prior to submission to the SIAC Chair for presentation at the July SIAC meeting. The committee then continued the brainstorming session pertaining to RIAC modernization by breaking into small groups and drafting ideas to two questions then sharing these with the whole group.

Training & Technical Assistance

Committee meeting attendees introduced themselves and reviewed the agenda. Following that, the committee reviewed the prior SIAC recommendations to the Governor and LRC. Upon reviewing, attendees requested to learn more about the past recommendations for the report to the governor, i.e.: were the past recommendations ever accepted by the governor? The committee reported that they would need to know more about those recommendations before coming up with new ones to present. Discussion around what the committee charge was held. It was discussed that the committee was asked to develop a training protocol for RIACs.

There was a discussion about conducting a needs survey to RIACS to see what types of trainings they would need to have. Group would like a central hub or "clearing house" for training across the state. One website or one group of people who could refer others to trainings or trainers on specific topics. It was reported that the Children's Review Panel collects evidence-based practices for state foster care children and host it in their data system. The committee staff person committed to contacting the organization to request a copy.
